Arena project stalls as cash flow short of required amount

Two firms are left in the running for the opportunity to build a covered skating facility in St. Albert, but unless some more cash is uncovered, neither may ever get the chance.

When tenders for the facility were opened last Friday, low bid for building and footings was $85,000 by Norway Construction of St. Albert.

Next on the list was Parkins Construction Ltd. of Edmonton at $90,727, the firm which had originally suggested $82,000 as a possible price.

With only $75,000 as the town's share and another $18,000 from the arena fund, only $8,000 is left even with the Norway bid to provide sewer and water to the building, lighting and heating, plumbing, washrooms and boards, what is believed to be the minimum requirements which will satisfy the Local Authorities Board.

This won't get far when bids come in with lows such as $4,900 for the boards enclosing the skating surface, $6,400 for sewer and water connections, $7,800 for lighting and $2,700 for washroom facilities.

Harold Rattai of Norway Construction told council he was willing to go all the way and would like to see what he could come up with regarding the minimum requirements relating to plumbing, sink boards, dressing, heating and lighting, etc.

Doug Endres, representing Parkins, said as his firm has spent money on the project, he would also like the opportunity to rework his firm's bid.

The matter was referred to the committee headed by Councillor John de Bruijn to

40 applicants seek superintendent's job

About 40 applications have been received by the board of the St. Albert Protestant Separate School District for the position of superintendent.

Deadlines for applications was Nov. 15 for the job which has been vacant since Dr. J. W. Chalmers left the system at the end of June.

Chairman Charles Schroder said a selection committee to screen the applicants would be struck at a board meeting this week.

He said it was expected that a choice would be made before the end of December.

Secretary-Treasurer D. L. White said only about three of the 40 had applied when the board advertised the position prior to the summer holidays.

The board said at that time that it had not found the man it wanted among the 22 applicants and put off further advertising until fall.

St. Albert big winner in Tap competition

three firsts; Marni Matychuk, three firsts; Maureen Gai, two firsts; Jane Barnes two firsts; Patti Hughes, two firsts; Jocelyn Kowalski, two firsts; Wendy Jentink, two firsts; Colleen Kelly, one first; Sherri Miller, one first; Cindy Forcand, one first; Elizabeth Gorka, one first; Patti Lukay, one first; Gary-Lou Lukay, one first; Christine Kempster, one first.

2nd Place Silver winners were: Sherri Miller, two second; Maureen Gai, one second; Jocelyn Kowalski, one second; Colleen Kelly, one second and Kim Martin one second.

Christmas lighting to go up downtown

Three downtown streets will glow with new Christmas lights this year.

Downtown merchants recently banded together under the direction of the Chamber of Commerce and contributed toward the purchase of a set of lights for $2,500.

The lights were donated to the town at Monday night's council meeting and henceforth the town will be responsible for putting them up, taking them down, storage and maintenance.

The lights will be strung along Calgary Power poles on Perron Street and St. Michael and St. Anne Streets between Perron Street and the highway.

Calgary Power will donate the power for the lights, which will go on Dec. 1 and be turned off Jan. 8.

The town will send a letter to Calgary Power assuming liability for the lights.

The downtown merchants will also supply Christmas music as speakers will be strung along Perron Street.

A dedicated worker for the St. Albert Community League, Mr. Henry Terrault is presented with a coffee service by Lieutenant-Governor J. W. Grant MacEwan, on behalf of the League.

Community League honors founders

Members of the St. Albert and District Community League arranged a thoroughly delightful evening to celebrate the occasion of their organization's 30th anniversary on Nov. 21st.

The reception, banquet, program and dance were in honor of the oldtimers who were the founders of the league and builders of the Community Hall. Throughout the evening the warmth of hospitality and good fellowship was evident among all the people present. Perhaps this was reminiscent of the way things were thirty and more years ago. During the reception one could hear greetings on all sides as people from the various country districts, the town and former residents who were back for the evening, renewed old friendships.

Dr. J. Grant MacEwan, Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta, Father Emile Tardif OMI, and members of the original board of directors of the league, Mr. Lorne Atkins, Dr. Richard Poirier, Mr. Henry Terrault and Mr. Allan Blair were especially honored guests. Mr. Fred Turnbull and Mr. Joe Kluthe the other two original members were unable to be present.

Mr. Elmer Harrison, master of ceremonies, handled the program most capably with charm and good humor.

One head-table guest who nearly lost his powers of speech was Mr. Henry Terrault when Elmer asked him to step forward. Lieutenant-Governor MacEwan presented him with a beautiful chrome coffee service and tray, on behalf of the league, and Henry's complete surprise was evident. Mr. Terrault has served as president of the board of directors of St. Albert Community League ever since it was founded in 1939. In thanking the league he spoke briefly on some of the struggles in the early years, and one point where the league considered selling the hall to the town for the sum of $1, as the only way to look after taxes.

Major Ray Gibson spoke briefly, congratulating the league on fostering a strong link between the surrounding rural districts and the towns people. This liaison he felt made a good town and was much preferable to an amalgamation plan with Edmonton.

Father Tardif whose great interest in the early history of St. Albert is well known, gave an appropriate and tremendously humorous address. Drawing on a marvellous horde of anecdotes he spoke of Father Lacombe whose address was the West, Brother Scullen, Bishop Grandin, St. Albert bridge, the first West of Winnipeg, the early days of the CPR and Hudson's Bay Company.

He recalled the time when Fort Edmonton was a satellite of St. Albert and how the women and children from the Fort were sent to St. Albert during the rebellion of 1885. "Never mind that the rebellion was in Saskatchewan he said — the St. Albert regiment was sent to Lac la Biche — not one shot was fired!"

Speaking of early settlers he reminded his audience to go back to 1773 when the French and Scots came. Families like the Callhoos, Frasers, Cunningshams, Pepins and Gervais were the real oldtimers with descendants still in the area today. Realizing that he had spoken a long time the good Father closed with the remark that after such a big dinner he couldn't have sat that long!

Lieutenant-Governor MacEwan thanked the league for their invitation and the hospitality shown himself and Mrs. MacEwan. After congratulating the league on their anniversary he reminded his audience that an anniversary of great importance to western Canada had been celebrated two days earlier. Even more notable in the West than Confederation was the sale of Ruperts Land (Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta) by the Hudson's Bay Company to Canada one hundred years ago on Nov. 19, 1869. That sale marked the beginning of the New West, said Dr. MacEwan.

To close the program Mr. Harrison read a letter of congratulation from the St. Albert Women's Institute and introduced the present Board of Directors: Marcel DeChamplain; Anne Kampen vice-president; Henry Terrault chairman; Alice Kluthe, Bertha DeBois; Lucille DeChamplain secretary; Elmer Harrison; Gordon Kirby; Marie Hayden; Nelson Savole; John JeBois; Albert Lesburg.

Dancing into the wee hours to the music of the Golden Allos completed a wonderful evening.

Council briefs

Town Engineer Jan Maandag, Parks Superintendent John Beedle and Secretary-Treasurer D. B. O'Connell have been appointed by the town as negotiators in drawing up a new contract with employees of the town, who are represented by the Canadian Union of Public Employees.

Town council authorized a grant of $50 to St. Albert Air Cadet Squadron 533, judged best in Alberta last year, to assist it in bringing further honors to the town.

Councillor J. J. Bakker holding to his principle that council should have a set policy concerning grants, voted against it down the line.

He's a good loser, though. Voting along against the by-law on first and second reading, he voted in favor of giving it third reading as unanimous support of council is required to give three readings in one sitting. And he had no intention of holding up payment.

On third reading, he promptly registered his protest again.

In the fall of 1968, council turned down a request by the Victorian Order of Nurses for a $500 grant but voted 4-1 to give them the grant in 1969.

This was, according to Councillor Bob Russell, tacit approval in principle.

Some councillors didn't think so. When the bylaw was presented it went down on a 3-3 vote on first reading. Mayor Ray Gibbon and Councillors Bakker and Frank Lukay against. Councillors Russell, Rene Kambourff and John de Bruijn for.

A motion that the finance

School district eyes future

An evaluative study is being conducted within the St. Albert Protestant Separate School District to determine just where the district is going.

Board Chairman Charles Schroder said Monday the study was being undertaken by the board, administrators committee do a study of grants as part of the 1970 budget consideration passed 4-2. Mayor Gibbon and Councillor Kambourff voting against.

Council referred to public works for a report on a suggestion that flashing lights may be required on St. Albert Road at the east end of Madison Avenue.

Council authorized purchase of a 150 horse power engine for $1,000 to put the town's snow blower back in action. The motor seized last week.

and the teachers' advisory committee.

But he said it was hoped that other groups would be brought in and students' advisory groups from the high school and junior high schools would also have a say in the assessment.

He said the study, which would be continued until the end of the school year, would assist the board in making fundamental decisions regarding educational television, team teaching and teacher aids.

Town of St. Albert

Notice of Intention

The Council of the Town of St. Albert having been given the authority under Section 175 of the Municipal Government Act, Chapter 68, 1968, as amended, have given first reading to Bylaw #43/69.

The purpose of Bylaw #43/69 is to legally close that portion of St. Thomas Street lying between Edmonton Street and Perron Street in order to provide parking for an arena.

This Bylaw will be submitted to the Minister of Highways for his approval prior to the final passing thereof. This notice will be published once each week for two consecutive weeks the last of which will be December 3, 1969.

Before the passing of this bylaw, a person who claims that land in which he is interested as owner, occupier or otherwise will be affected prejudicially by the bylaw and who petitions to be heard, shall be afforded an opportunity to be heard either by himself or by his agent at the regular council meeting of December 22, 1969.

Any person occupying, owning or otherwise interested in land that sustains damages through the closing of the aforementioned street, shall be compensated for such damages as provided for by Section 175 of the Municipal Government Act.

D. B. O'Connell,
Secretary-Treasurer.

Report cards banned for one-year trial

Students at Vital Grandin Elementary-Junior High School whose marks may not be up to par will not have to live in fear of report cards this year.

The St. Albert Public School Board last week gave the school permission to discontinue the formal report card on a one-year experimental basis.

It will be replaced by personal contact with the parents by the teachers.

"Students will still write tests in the classroom, but they won't be faced with the finality of the report card, which has a tendency to pigeon-hole a student at a certain level," Principal Lloyd Deutscher said Monday.

"Students will now be assessed individually, rather than by comparison with others."

Mr. Deutscher said parents would be invited to the school at times throughout the year and the progress of their children would be discussed with them.

Parents 250 strong attended a meeting in the school two weeks ago to hear the school's reasons for suggesting the new method.

Mr. Deutscher said discussion at the meeting demonstrated the parents' concern regarding the validity of the present method of reporting. They felt a look at some other type of system would be valuable and went along with the proposed plan.

"What we're trying to do," Mr. Deutscher said, "is to improve the self-respect that a child should acquire in a school system. The present system tends to destroy a person's respect for his own ability, and those on the bottom end get pounded into a corner."

"Some students' academic ability may be low but they may have talents in other areas. We're not all cut out to be lawyers and doctors, and everybody appreciates a good mechanic or carpenter."

"The report card can label a student as a failure, but once he finds his niche in the adult world he will be a success."

Mr. Deutscher said it was hoped that the new method of reporting would take away the stigma of failure that the report card so often conjured.

"If a student makes 40 per cent on his first test of the year and also makes 40 on his last, that means he has been learning," he said.

"But if the 40 per cent shows up on a report card, he'll probably think of himself as being a dummy."

He said in many cases students took home report cards with marks of 75 per cent, making their parents' happy. Yet often these students were not really working up to their ability. In other cases, however, a student making 40 per cent was performing to the limit of his capabilities.

Mr. Deutscher said with the increase in individual instruction in the schools, dual assessment with students proceeding more and more on an individual basis, it followed that their should be individual assessment.

More refs needed

The St. Albert Kinsmen Minor Hockey Association is still short of the number of referees it requires to carry out its program this winter.

But coaches this year will not be a problem. About 38 persons attended a meeting of coaches and referees Monday night and the count of coaches is now so high that there should be two for pretty well every team in the system.

A clinic for coaches and referees will be held as soon as ice is available.

Anyone wishing to offer their services as a referee should contact Elroy Haight at 599-7882.

Erling Winquist, chairman of the hockey program, said he had not received any word from Morinville or Legal as the big turnout we apparently didn't," Hercules President Don Hout said.

"We're laying down the law to the youngsters. It will be up to them whether they have basketball."

The program had started in Father Jan School but came to an abrupt halt when some of the youngsters sneaked away from the group and caused damage in other parts of the school.

The association this time intends to have people on hand just to supervise, aside from the coaches who will be handling the practices and games.

to whether they would be entering teams in the St. Albert Leagues this season. Last winter teams from the two rural centres entered teams in the bantam and pee-wee leagues.

Winquist said if word was not received pretty soon, St. Albert would have to proceed without them.

Robert Brandles' to New Zealand

The Robert Brandles, residents of 15 Grantham Place since 1962, will leave St. Albert on Thursday to make their home in Auckland, New Zealand.

Mr. Brandles and his wife, Anne, and children Maureen, Carmen, Robert and Stephanie, will board the Pacific and Orient liner Orsova at Vancouver for the two-week trip which will have stops in Hawaii and the Fiji Islands.

Mr. Brandles, a resident of the district all his life as he was born in Edmonton and was raised along the St. Albert Trail, was in the printing business, owning Robert Mann and Associates.

He doesn't have anything special in mind for New Zealand, intending to take a job while he looks around for business opportunities.

The reason for the move—just wanted to see something different and to get away from the long winters.

She can't get by experienced fencer

There's an old adage in sport that says "you can't beat experience."

And as far as 14-year-old Shelley Wilson of St. Albert is concerned, truer words were never said.

Shelley lost three fencing matches on the weekend, two of them to a Calgary woman who was fencing long before Shelley was born.

One of the losses cost Shelley the individual championship in the tournament held at the University of Alberta and the other and undefeated slate in the team event.

The same woman, Sherrington Amsten, had defeated Calgary in mid-October in a barrage playoff to decide the individual championship in a tournament in Calgary. Shelley's loss to Sherrington in the individual tournament at the weekend left her tied with Linda Smith of Calgary with 7-1 won-lost records at the conclusion of play. Shelley lost out in the barrage.

Shelley posted two wins in the team event, but again lost out to Sherrington. Calgary won the event as neither of the other two members of the Edmonton team could come up with a double victory.

Shelley actually beat Linda twice in the tournament. She handed her her only loss in the individual tournament before losing in the barrage, then beat her again in the team event.

It was the first time Shelley had taken part in the team event.

Return bout

Sixteen-year-old Donnie Wilson of St. Albert has been rematched with a fighter who defeated him in Montreal in mid-October.

Wilson will meet 19-year-old Paul Collette on a card in Leduc on Dec. 6.

Wilson lost a split decision in their first match in the 119-pound division

...how tax weight is lifted on Alberta estates?

With the proper kind of planning any person meeting qualifications prescribed by this province can take advantage of the estate tax rebate program regulated and administered by the Alberta Department of the Provincial Treasurer. Helpful information on eligibility for rebates to reduce tax burdens can be obtained through the office of the Administrator of the Estate Tax Rebate Branch. Since April 1st, 1967 when this type of rebate was first offered to Alberta estates, over 10,000 complementary reference booklets outlining benefits and explanatory notes have been widely distributed. Copies are still available on request to individuals interested in planning their personal estates. Speaking engagements or seminars with professional or other groups can be arranged through the Administrator. All applications by executors are processed and the amount of rebates payable under the program are calculated by this Branch as a service to heirs or beneficiaries.

...who separates the seeds from the weeds?

In a major project to help farmers help themselves, over 18 million bushels of seed are processed annually through provincially-assisted municipally-located, locally-operated seed cleaning plants throughout this province. This is just one of the many crop improvement programs undertaken for the benefit of farmers by the Plant Industry Division of the Alberta Department of Agriculture. Over 20,000 farmers are involved in this project which results in lower individual farm input costs, more efficient production, better crops, and a further ultimate saving of money that would otherwise be spent on weed control. Sixty-five seed plants are now in operation and two new plants, one at Manning, the other at Vilna, will soon be completed. An annual summary of grain cleaning operations is available through the Field Crops Branch of the Division.

...a 'blue print' of water and where it goes?

By contacting the offices of the Water Resources Division you can get detailed information about almost any lake in this province—including maps and such valuable facts as relative water levels over the years and depth soundings for safe boating. A complete listing of over 140 lakes and their recorded data is available through this Division of the Alberta Department of Agriculture. Originally established to administer the use of water by license, its areas of service have been extended to include all aspects of development, conservation and utilization of water for agricultural, domestic, industrial and recreational application in the province. The director and staff of technicians and engineers co-operate and administer cost-sharing arrangements with cities, towns and municipalities in developing water projects. Day-to-day and long-range programs of licensing, planning, control and use of all surface and sub-surface water in the province are developed by this Division. A comprehensive "blueprint" of our water resources including precipitation and flow charts is available on request without charge.

...taking a trip through flowerland?

You can enjoy a summertime atmosphere and flourishing displays of flowers any time during the year by taking a tour of the Government Greenhouse maintained by the Physical Plant Division Alberta Department of Public Works, on the legislative grounds in Edmonton. Over 30,000 visitors are the source of seedlings and bedding plants for the flowerbeds decorating various provincial buildings throughout the province. This Division is also responsible for tree pruning and the upkeep of the lawns and grounds surrounding buildings. During winter months all sidewalks, roads and parking areas are cleared of snow by work crews employed by the Physical Plant Division whose other employees also operate and maintain the heating, air-conditioning and housekeeping of the government buildings.

...who checks the cost of going and coming?

Reducing the price of imported merchandise through effective analysis and negotiation of transportation rates and charges is part of the over-all objective of the Alberta Freight Bureau. It also assists local industries and manufacturers broaden their marketing outlook through studies of total distribution patterns. The transportation analysts and researchers of the Bureau work directly with municipal agencies or private concerns developing projects to attract new industries to specific areas. Many suppliers take advantage of the facilities and records maintained by this Bureau in evaluating trends in costs for moving goods within the province, across the country, or to world markets with the eventual aim of creating more jobs and improving the provincial economy.

...asking for a licence, for your protection?

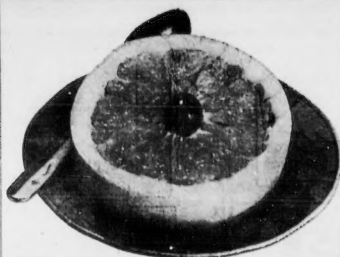

Working with businessmen and other agencies to resolve problems, particularly in the area of direct selling, is part of the broad scope of service undertaken by the Licensing Branch of the Alberta Department of Industry and Tourism. While the effect of licensing is important in maintaining protective standards for over 40,000 business operations throughout this province it also offers built-in protection for you as a consumer. Before signing a contract or making a down payment for any goods or merchandise you can be sure any responsible soliciting salesman will readily show you that he and the company represented is properly licensed to do business in this province. It's a wise measure of protection to take, and all you have to do is ask for it. Any further doubts or complaints you have can be checked out with the Director or other officers of this Licensing Branch through main offices in Calgary and Edmonton.

Condominium plan back at 158 units

The condominium project planned for east Braeside that council as committee of the whole pegged at 154 units maximum last week, jumped to 158 units at Monday's regular meeting of council.

Council accepted Alcan Design Homes Ltd.'s offer of an additional parcel of dedicated parkland and also town planner J. X. Woodroffe's word that the 158 units would not downgrade the plan.

Alcan had originally asked for 168 units, then 158 when council said no deal. Last week committee of the whole trimmed the project so quickly that it was down to 142 units before the brakes were put on.

Shifting into reverse, the vote was retaken and the 154-unit ceiling established. It was raised to 158 Monday with little difficulty.

Council had recently set a 12-unit maximum per acre of land and it was this that was causing the trouble. Mayor Ray Gibson said it was only fair to allow Alcan the increase as the 12-unit limit was brought in midway in negotiations.

Mr. Woodroffe said he did not see any problem in the increase in density brought about by the addition of four units.

He said, however, that it should be clearly spelled out to future developers of row housing that 12 units per acre is something that must be strictly adhered to. He said this project was a little different, with the additional parkland that was being dedicated and the late decision on the 12 units per acre, and he didn't think the problem will arise again.

The units will cover 11.85 acres of the 14.49 acre site.

Only three residents of the area attended the public hearing regarding the rezoning of the area to high density family dwelling. They questioned council and the developers, but did not lodge any protest.

They were assured that council had met with the school boards and additional school needs had been taken into consideration.

Lawyer Jack Agrios, representing Alcan, said the firm will pour $100,000,000 into the Braeside area, where it has large holdings, in the next five years.

mail report cards

Non-returnable report cards have come onto the education scene in St. Albert.

And for the first time here, they will be sent to parents via the mail instead of via the student.

John Hrynew, principal of Paul Kane High School, said the report cards were put in the mail Tuesday along with a letter regarding parent-teacher interviews.

"It might be pretty expensive, but we feel it's worth a try," he said, indicating that the school had had problems getting report cards and other information to the parents through the students.

"The main thing is to get the report cards home. We have had many cases of students carrying them around for a long while. And getting them back, we've sometimes had to chase students for half a term."

The non-returnable method will eliminate this problem. When making out report cards, results will also be included on the others that are to follow.

The new report cards have the phone number of the school on them and parents are invited to set up interviews on their own. It is not necessary to wait for scheduled interviews, because if the problem is pressing, the school also wants to see it cleared up.

Regular parent-teacher interviews have been scheduled for Dec. 10 from 1 to 5 and 6 to 10 p.m. If they can't all be handled in that time, another day will be scheduled.

RECREATION Hi-Lites

YWCA

Accommodation has now been found for the "Y Neighbors." The program will start on Monday, Jan. 5, in the Community Hall, Perron Street, where there will be ample space for the preschoolers and babies in the newly-renovated basement. This weekly two-hour program of keep fit and crafts or speakers for women will be held every Monday from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. with baby-sitting and kindergarten provided for the mothers with pre-schoolers. Babies may be brought in car-beds.

Further details will be published later when the cost has been estimated and this will depend on the volunteer help available. (The care of the pre-schoolers would make an excellent community project for a women's organization). Information about Y Neighbors can be obtained by phoning the YWCA at 422-8176 or the department of parks and recreation at 599-6601.

YMCA

Men interested in getting and keeping fit should attend the keep fit class on Wednesday evening in Sir Alexander Mackenzie School from 7-9 p.m. The class consists of exercises (with everyone going at his own pace) followed by a game of volleyball.

Mrs. Helga Kirschowsky the Swedish gym instructor, has just returned from a physical education refresher course held at Banff last week. This course covered a wide range of subjects from anatomy and physiology to yoga and rhythmic dancing and Mrs. Kirschowsky found it all extremely interesting and stimulating. Ladies are reminded about her Swedish gym class which is held on Thursdays in Leo Nickerson School from 8-9 p.m. - immediately following her classes for girls.

BRIDGE

The St. Albert Bridge Club which became re-activated a few weeks ago continues to expand.

It meets each Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m. in the basement of the Community Hall (which recently underwent a very successful "face-lift") and anyone interested in playing is invited to attend. There are enough experienced players who will be only too pleased to give instruction.

NEWCOMERS

We welcome the following to St. Albert:

Mr. and Mrs. G. Beely and family; Mr. and Mrs. S. Cowan and family; Mr. and Mrs. E. Mowbray and family; Mr. and Mrs. D. Popkin and Mr. G. Scott of the Braeside area.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Frey and family; Mr. and Mrs. J. Rainey; Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Delaney; Mr. and Mrs. J. Brunnetta and family; and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Oester and family of the Sturgeon Heights district.

Mr. and Mrs. K. Byron and family; Mr. and Mrs. M. Haas and family; Mr. and Mrs. D. Funnell and family and Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Garvin and family of the Grandin Park area.

tion to people with no knowledge of the game and newcomers to St. Albert (without experience) will be given a warm welcome. Coffee is served and while the name of the game is bridge, it provides an excellent opportunity of getting to know your neighbors.

Last Sunday there were seven tables of duplicate bridge and the winners were: 1st - R. Folkin and B. Tippett; 2nd - K. Ahronson and B. Taylor; 3rd - P. Armstrong and G. Manners.

Information about the Club can be obtained by phoning Rupert Haselgruber at 599-3744 or Bud Ahronson at 599-6945.

SQUARE DANCING

The local square dance club, the St. Albert Saints and Sinners, danced with the St. Peter's 2 x 4's last Saturday evening and next Saturday they go visiting again when they will be the guests of the NAIT Set Squares.

MEN'S SOCCER

The game scheduled against the University of Alberta Golden Bears on Tuesday, Nov. 25, was cancelled. The local team's first game in the Winter League will be on Sunday, Dec. 30, at 3 p.m. in the Kinsmen Fieldhouse against Ritchie Canadians.

Next week the training session which is usually held on Tuesdays in Father Jan School will be held on Wednesday at 8 p.m. (This arrangement is for the one week only).

FIGURE SKATING

Registrations for the three programs sponsored by the St. Albert Skating Club are still being taken at the department of parks and recreation in the town hall. These programs are learn-to-skate, figure skating and power skating.

Earlier in the evening council had given second and third reading rezoning the site on Perron Street beside Imperial Lumber to accommodate the arena.

Councillor J. J. Bakker, opposing the rezoning, termed it a retrograde step and said council should be aware that it was bringing about the desecration of St. Albert.

But council was covering old ground now, ground on which battle lines had long ago been drawn. It was no secret who had the most guns and when the shooting started for real, Councillors de Bruijn, Rene Kam-bourff, Bob Russell and Frank Lukaby supported the rezoning and Mayor Ray Gibbon and Councillor Bakker cast their votes against.

Five general contractors and one architect bid on the building and sub-trades submitted bids on some of the items.

North Construction Ltd. and Norway Construction submitted bids based on plans prepared by W. J. Francel and Associates, which call for a laminated wooden arch structure. North Construction's bid, however, was for $165,451 for the total package and was not broken down into tender items as requested by Town Engineer Jan Maandag.

David M. McLeod and Associates was a submission from an architect who has prepared plans similar to the arena in Stony Plain and who solicited quotations for the construction of such an arena in St. Albert. Cost of the building, which would be of concrete walls and glulam beams, would be $103,350.

Robertson Irwin Limited submitted a bid of $98,319 with completion 100 days from awarding of the contract or $94,865 with completion date of Nov. 1, 1970. Classic Construction bid $99,941 for the building and foundation only.

Only one bid was submitted for sewer lines to the building and Mr. Maandag estimated that a saving could be made if the town undertook the work.

Two bids were received for lighting, but Mr. Maandag suggested it might be possible to get by for a time with the installation of ordinary street lighting which could reduce the investment as a rental rate could be applied with a minimum amount of conduit required.

The lowest lighting bid was for $7,061 (Sturgeon Electric) but the candle power was less than that offered by Jorgenson Electric, who quoted $9,996 40 days from enclosure and $10,596 for Nov. 1, 1970.

Board to hear students' views

Student advisory committees may sit in on their first meeting with the board of the St. Albert Protestant Separate School District early in December.

Board Chairman Charles Schroder said Monday it was hoped the students would be attending an education committee meeting.

The board came up with the idea of student advisory committees last spring and pressed the matter after a sit-down by Paul Kane High School students in June following the resignation of several teachers.

Advisory committees have now been named from Paul Kane and Sir George Simpson and Sir Alexandra MacKenzie Junior High Schools.

Mr. Schroder said the board had set limits on the committees of three from the high school and two from each of the junior high schools, but he said if the students wanted more representation, he could see no objection to it.

He said when the board originally proposed the idea, it only considered the high school. He said the inclusion of the junior high schools came at the suggestion of administrators.

"It was thought they had something to contribute," he said. "Some of them will have been in school seven or eight years and will be able to convey their impressions, good or bad, up to that time."

Mr. Schroder said it would be valuable experience for the youngsters to assume such responsibility. "The main reason for the setting up of the student committees," Mr. Schroder said, "was to give the board a line of communication with the students so that both parties could feel free to contact the other on areas of mutual concern."

Mr. Schroder said the board in no way intended to usurp the power of the administration, which at present acted as go-between for the students and board.

He said the students "were a pretty concerned group of individuals" and the direct line would benefit them and the board, as each would be able to see what the other's problems were.

to hold bazaar

Plans for a Christmas bazaar and tea were finalized at the regular monthly meeting of Father Lacombe Chapter 100E held at the home of Mrs. E. G. Hole.

To be held Saturday, Dec. 6, from 1:30 to 4 p.m. in the St. Albert Legion Hall, the bazaar will feature items such as Christmas stockings, candles, stuffed toys, aprons and home baking. There will be a fish pond and a door prize. Bazaar convener is Mrs. R. H. Skistod.

Other business at the meeting included plans to make donations to the St. Albert Christmas Bureau and a veterans' home in Edmonton.

The next meeting of the chapter will be held Dec. 10 at the home of Mrs. W. G. Kirkpatrick. A social evening will follow.
